

SCOTT HARPER—CURRICULUM VITAE

Scott founded his company Sunday Night Entertainment in 2001 after landing his first independent documentary “Cake Night,” a POV look at addiction recovery. More recent projects include the CTV ratings hit “Clara’s Big Ride,” featuring Olympian Clara Hughes. The film explores the issue of stigma and mental illness. Scott wrote, produced and directed the award-winning “Lost Adventures of Childhood,” an exploration of the vanishing phenomenon of unsupervised play among kids. The film has sold in 28 countries and counting. He also produced and directed the CTV documentary “Sunday Night.” Like a real life version of Ricky Gervais’ “The Office,” the film takes an ironic look at trials and tribulations inside a temp agency. Up next: “You’re Soaking In It,” a documentary exploring the disrupted state of the 21st century ad agency. Filming this summer, it will air on CBC TV and the Documentary channel.
